The screenshot shows a web browser window with the address bar displaying 'pollev.com/trg123'. The page title is 'trg123's presentation'. The main heading is 'Welcome to trg123's presentation!'. Below this is a section titled 'Introduce yourself' with the instruction 'Enter the screen name you would like to appear alongside your responses.' There is a text input field labeled 'Name' and two buttons: 'Continue' and 'Skip'. At the bottom, there is a paragraph explaining that using a screen name allows the presenter and other participants to attach their screen name to their responses, and that the screen name can be changed at any time.

We'll use Poll Everywhere for this poll.
